3 Annex

The Annex shall be integral part of this Agreement. In the case of contradiction between the Annex and this document the Annex shall prevail.

4 Software and Object of Services

The Agreement covers the Software as set out in the Annex to this Agreement and any new Release; the Software does not include the Documentation which is available for download at <https://www.jooq.org>. The Maintenance Services do not include maintenance or support for any parts of the Java Development Kit or the Database Program(s).

5 Delivery

The Supplier will make the Software and any new Releases available for download at the site designated by the Supplier. A delivery date included in the Annex shall be approximate.

6 Licenses

6.1 Developer License

The Supplier grants the Customer the non-exclusive and non-transferable Floating License to install and use the Software on the number of Workstations set out in the Annex for operation in conjunction with the Database Programs defined in the Annex. Without the written consent of the Supplier, Customer is not entitled to use the Software in conjunction with other Database Programs which are not supported by the Supplier in accordance with the Annex.

Only Developer Workstations need a Developer License. All other Workstations may operate the Software under the terms of 6.2 Distribution Right.

The Software installed on a Developer Workstation may only be accessed and used by one unnamed user at a time.

6.1.1 Timely limited license

Customer may choose a timely-limited license for timely limited use of the Software. Terms of such use are set out in the Annex.

6.1.2 Perpetual license

Customer may choose a perpetual license for timely unlimited use of the Software. Terms of such use are set out in the Annex.

6.2 Distribution Right

Supplier grants the Customer the non-exclusive, perpetual, royalty-free and non-transferable license (i) to distribute the Software as run time version in object code form only and embedded in the End-user Applications and (ii) to grant non-exclusive and perpetual sublicenses of it to the End-user.

This right expressly includes the right to build and operate the End-user Application including those parts that directly interact with the Software on all Workstations that are not Developer Workstations.

Customer is not permitted to distribute the Software as a standalone product. Customer must ensure that the Software is not distributed in any form that allows it to be reused by any application other than the End-user Application.

6.3 Modifications

Supplier grants the Customer the right to modify the Software source code (hereinafter "Modifications"), and to reassemble the Software in whole or in part, solely in order to pursue urgent maintenance work that would otherwise be performed by the Supplier in the form of Maintenance Services.

Supplier will no longer maintain, warrant, and indemnify the Software or such Modifications. Customer shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Supplier from all claims, costs, damages, losses, liabilities and expenses arising out of or in connection with any claim brought against Supplier by a third party relating to your Modifications in accordance with the procedures and conditions set forth in Section 16.

Customer shall pursue reasonable efforts to provide all necessary information about such Modifications to Supplier, such that remedies can be applied to new Releases, for which Maintenance Services and Warranties will be re-established under the terms of this Agreement.

6.4 Generated Code

Classes, files, documentation, and other artefacts that are generated from a database schema by the Software are part of the End-user Application, not of the Software, and are governed by this Agreement only if they directly depend on the Software.

6.5 Excluded Rights

Except as expressly stated in this Section 6, Customer may not (and shall not permit any third party to) copy, adapt, modify, reverse engineer, decompile, reassemble or disassemble the Software in whole or in part except to the extent expressly permitted by applicable law. Furthermore Customer shall not make available the Software to third parties, unless such third parties are using or operating the Software solely on behalf of the Customer.

attributed to the Software or the Maintenance Services, in particular in the event

- Defects are caused by third parties;
- Defects are caused by non-observance of operating instructions.
- Software is maintained by Customer according to the maintenance rights set out in 6.3.

8 Subscription Fee

8.1 Subscription Fee

Customer will pay a single, annual, or monthly Subscription Fee set out in the Annex.

The Supplier is entitled to adjust the amounts of the Subscription Fee at the beginning of each calendar year to take account of cost developments. Any such adjustments must be communicated in writing or per e-mail at least four months before they come into effect.

The adjustment shall exceed neither

- the then-current list price for the Software;
- a 3% increase per calendar year.

All invoices of the Supplier are due and payable thirty (30) days after the invoice date unless otherwise provided in this Agreement.

8.3 Maintenance Services not included in Subscription Fee

The Subscription Fee includes the number of Support Tickets set out in the Annex. The Supplier is entitled to charge for any additional Support Ticket on a time and material basis based on the hourly rates defined in the Annex. Onsite services are not included in the Subscription Fee and will be charged additionally.

If the Supplier provides Maintenance Services in relation to a defect and it is found that the defect cannot be attributed to the Software or the Maintenance Services as further set out in Section 7.5, the Supplier may charge for all such services according to the hourly rates set out in the Annex.

9 Cooperation Obligations

Customer shall fulfil the following cooperation obligations:

- installation of the Software;
- operation of the Software with the Java Development Kit version 6 or a later version thereof if notified accordingly by the Supplier;

- reporting of all Modifications performed on the Software source code by Customer for maintenance as defined in 6.3;
- remote access to the Software operated by the Customer or, if the remote access is not available, access to the office spaces and provision of a working place reasonably equipped to fulfil the Maintenance Services in case the Supplier is providing the Maintenance Services onsite;
- installation and use of the latest Major or Minor Releases within one year after its issuance by the Supplier;
- installation and use of the latest Patch Release as soon as reasonably practical after its issuance by the Supplier;
- carrying out Supplier's recommendations designed to implement a Workaround.

10 Intellectual Property Rights and Audit

10.1 Intellectual Property Rights

All title, trademarks and copyrights in and to the Software and the Work Products and any copies thereof are owned by the Supplier or its licensors. The Customer may not copy, distribute, modify or publish the Software or the Work Products unless expressly stated in this Agreement. Apart from the rights vested in the Software, the Supplier is not claiming any rights to the part of the End-user Application developed or modified by the Customer or its licensor(s).

10.2 Proprietary Notices

Customer may not remove any proprietary notices or labels on the Software.

10.3 Auditing

Upon reasonable notification, the Supplier may inspect Customer's premises and records necessary to check the number of Workstations. The inspection shall take place during normal business hours and shall not interfere unreasonably with Customers' business activities. The Supplier is entitled to charge a third party with the inspection.

10.4 Duty to provide information

Customer shall immediately provide in writing all information relevant to the Subscription Fee, such as the increase of the number of Workstations, or the types of Database Programs.

11 Involvement of third parties

The Supplier is entitled to commission subcontractors or other third parties to fulfil its contractual obligations.

12 Default and Warranty

Should the Supplier fail to deliver the Software at the delivery date, fail to rectify a Defect within a reasonable time limit, provide inadequate Maintenance Services or not begin to rectify the Defect within the Response

Time, the Customer may fix in writing an appropriate time limit for subsequent performance of the service concerned. Should the Supplier fail to perform the service by this time limit, the Supplier shall be in default. Should the Supplier fail to meet a second appropriate time limit specified in writing for subsequent performance of the service concerned, the Customer shall be entitled to withdraw from the Agreement, and demand repayment of any Subscription Fee paid since the Supplier was found to be in default. In the case of Defects of Severity Level "Major" or "Minor", the Customer shall only be entitled to an appropriate reduction of the Subscription Fee. No other remedies shall be provided under this Agreement. Substitute performance by a third party is specifically excluded.

13 Confidentiality

All data and information such as files, studies, offers, business documents, concepts or meeting minutes exchanged between the Parties may only be used by the recipient to fulfil its contractual obligations, and may not be made available to third parties unless such parties are involved in the fulfilment of such contractual obligations. All data and information which are publicly known at the time the Agreement is concluded or become publicly known without any violation of the contractual agreements during the validity of the Agreement shall not be regarded as confidential under the terms of this provision. Both Parties undertake to impose the above confidentiality provisions on their own personnel and any third parties involved.

The restrictions on disclosure and use of information described in this section do not extend to any item of information which: (i) is publicly known at the time of its disclosure; (ii) is lawfully received by the receiving party from a third party not bound in a confidential relationship to the other party; (iii) is published or otherwise made known to the public by the disclosing party; (iv) was generated independently by the receiving party without use of the information in question; or (v) is required to be disclosed under applicable law or regulation or a court order.

14 Public Announcements

Both Supplier and Customer agree to allow for usage of trademarks, logos and domain names for the purpose of advertising or publicizing Customer's use of the Software and to make public statements regarding Customer's use of the Software.

15 Protection of personal data (data protection)

The Customer undertakes, when using the Maintenance Services, to comply with all applicable data protection provisions and to impose the same obligation on its employees and any third parties authorized to obtain the Maintenance Services. Any authorizations required for the establishment and use of databases containing personal data and the transfer of personal data abroad shall be obtained by the Customer from the relevant authorities.

16 Defence of infringement claims

The Supplier shall defend the Customer against any claims relating to the infringement of intellectual property rights such as copyright, patent or trademark rights arising from the use of the Software or the Work Products in compliance with the contractual agreements, provided the Customer

- notifies the Supplier in writing within ten (10) calendar days of the actual or alleged infringement of intellectual property rights;
- provides the Supplier with all the information required to settle the claim, together with all reasonable cooperation and support;
- gives the Supplier the sole authority to conduct the legal case and settle the claim in court or out-of-court.

Under the above conditions, the Supplier shall conduct the legal case at its own expense.

Should the intellectual property rights of third parties be violated, or should the Supplier regard such infringement as likely, the Supplier may choose to obtain for the Customer the right to continue to use the Software or the Work Products, to replace or modify them so that they become non-infringing, or to withdraw from the Agreement and reimburse the portion of the Subscription Fee paid since the Customer reported the infringement claim. The foregoing states the Supplier's entire warranty with respect to any infringement claims.

17 Disclaimer of Liability

The Supplier is not liable for any damages, including direct and indirect, incidental or consequential damages, or for loss of profits, revenue, data, for incorrect or corrupted data, Customers' additional expenses or personal costs, non-realised savings, non-availability of the Maintenance Services or for damages caused by late delivery, subcontractors or auxiliary persons, whether in an action in contract, tort, statute or otherwise, unless otherwise provided by mandatory provisions of law.

18 Termination

18.1 Ordinary Termination

Notice of termination must be submitted in writing or per e-mail.

18.2 Partial Ordinary Termination

The Customer shall be entitled to terminate the Agreement for a part of the Workstations at the end of each Subscription Period by observing a notice period of one (1) month. Provided the Subscription Fee was based on a discount scheme offered by the Supplier and should the Customer no longer fulfil their conditions required for a discount, the Supplier shall be entitled to adjust the new Subscription Fee accordingly. Notice of termination must be submitted in writing or per e-mail.

18.3 Extraordinary Termination

Both Parties shall have the right to terminate this Agreement with immediate effect by giving written notice to the other Party, if

- the other Party becomes insolvent;
- the other Party enters into a composition agreement or similar proceedings under bankruptcy laws;
- the other Party ceases to carry out its business operations; or
- in the event of a material breach of any obligations under this Agreement by the other Party and if such breach has not been remedied within a time period of thirty (30) calendar days. Other terms concerning the breach of contract shall take precedence over this provision.

18.4 Effects of Termination

All provisions of this Agreement that are expressed or intended to survive termination, together with those provisions necessary for the interpretation or enforcement of this Agreement, shall survive its termination, and shall continue in full force and effect.

18.4.1 Effects of Termination on perpetual licenses

Customer may continue to use and operate the Software and all Work Products. This expressly includes the rights set out in Section 6.

18.4.2 Effects of Termination on yearly and monthly Subscriptions

Upon termination of this Agreement Customer will delete the Software and all Work Products from Developer Workstations and confirm per e-mail that it did so successfully within ten (10) Working Days.

For the avoidance of doubt, the rights in clause 6.2 shall survive termination.

19 Final Provision

19.1 Entire Agreement

This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties regarding this subject matter. All amendments or additions to the Agreement must be made in writing and signed by both Parties.

19.2 Severability

Should one or more provisions of this Agreement prove invalid or unenforceable, the remaining provisions of the Agreement shall remain in force. In such cases, both Parties undertake to replace the invalid or unenforceable provision with another valid and enforceable regulation which comes as close as possible to the invalid or unenforceable provision in its legal and business content and implications. This principle and procedure shall also be applied to the rectification of open terms or omissions in the Agreement.

19.3 Applicable law and place of jurisdiction

This Agreement shall be governed exclusively by Swiss law (excluding the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods).

The place of jurisdiction shall be exclusively Zurich, Switzerland.
